Save the Date: Writers Symposium

The writer for CCC&TI's 28th annual Writers Symposium is Conor Grennan with his featured work Little Princes: One Man's Promise to Bring Home the Lost Children of Nepal. Please Save the Date for April 7-8. Reading and Question and Answer Sessions with the author will be held on both CCC&TI Campuses, as well as the J.E. Broyhill Civic Center.

The book presents a nonfiction account of the author's three month volunteer stint in an orphanage in Nepal, and his shocking discovery that many of the children in orphanages were not really orphans at all. Grennan then recounts his journey to reunite these children with their families and fight the child trafficking issues that brought them so far away from their homes. His captivating story details not only the children's transformation but also his own as he is propelled to do something to change this devastating situation in a country facing a civil war.

More details about scheduled events coming soon.

CCC&TI Music Department Presents "Full Circle: Tunes and Songs of the Living Tradition"

CCC&TI's AFA Music Program will present "Full Circle: Tunes and Songs of the Living Tradition" on Wednesday, Feb. 17 at 1 p.m. in the FPA Theater, located in B Building on Caldwell Campus. The concert will feature Tommy and Sandra O'Sullivan of Dingle, Ireland and Caldwell County's own Kay and Patrick Crouch. These two musical couples will take the listener on a journey through time and across the Atlantic Ocean in search of folk traditions old and new. Tommy and Sandra enjoy the vibrant traditional music of Ireland while Kay and Patrick are steeped in the Appalachian folk tradition that descended from Ireland, Scotland, and England. This workshop/performance weaves a fascinating tapestry through ages and places showing how folk music has remained relevant through the ages and is still essential today. Foothills Performing Arts Presents “To Kill A Mockingbird”

Based on Harper Lee’s book and adapted for the stage by Christopher Sergel, “To Kill A Mockingbird” is the story of Scout Finch and her older brother, Jem, who live in sleepy Maycomb, Alabama. The children spend much of their time with their friend Dill, spying on their reclusive and mysterious neighbor, Boo Radley. When Atticus, their widowed father and a respected lawyer, defends a black man named Tom Robinson against fabricated rape charges, the trial and tangent events expose the children to evils of racism and stereotyping. The stage production, published by The Dramatic Publishing Company, is Rated PG and directed by Carla Robinson.

Tickets for the show are $12 for adults, $10 for seniors and $8 for students. For more information or for tickets, call the FPA Box Office at 828-726-2318.
